Train2Game Winners Launched

Train2Game is supporting its students with new website, which shows off the achievements of its student body

The website is a chance to celebrate the achievements of Train2Game students, highlighting the positive work of the people that make up the student community and showing off some of the work it has produced. It's an opportunity for students to describe their achievements in their own words and for Train2Game to show off some of the projects students have been a part of.

It's also a portal for the wider gaming community to see what some of the best and brightest students studying with Train2Game are working on in the games industry.
